Tell me your story

Tell me a story
Tell me your story

Tell me how you got here the roads that led to this moment take me to the crossroads show me the paths you chose

Walk me along your most treasured tracks the tough mountains you have crossed Show me the signposts that pointed the way and the dead ends that left you almost defeated

And along the way show me your summer picnic places where happy memories still sit in the sun smiling Share with me those secret places where you sheltered when you were lost and adrift Tell me of the people you loved those who left their sweet mark and the ones whose harshness hollowed out your heart

Recount to me all your stories so I can know what has made you Why some things soften your face and others catch your breath and your eyes say no

Tell me a story
Tell me your story
